Dear Mr. Doe,

I have so angry with you I figured it was better to write than to try to talk to you again. I spoke with you two weeks ago for almost a half hour and you promised that you would stop playing music at loud volumes at all hours of the night.

My son can not sleep, he has received numerous detentions at school for tardiness and it is all your fault. You play your music so loudly that my child can not sleep. This is absolutely ridiculous and you need to stop!

If I hear your music again I am going to call the police and have your arrested. Do you know that playing music loudly at night is against the law?

I have spoken with the entire neighborhood and they are all feed up with your behavior. We have decided to sue you if threatening to have you arrested does not work. You should stop immediately or expect to be arrested!

Sincerely,

Susan Darling
